Announcer: The daughter of former President Nixon met with China's chairperson Mao Tse-tung today. Julie Nixon Eisenhower and her husband, David were greeted warmly, and Mao reportedly asked them to send his regards to Nixon to to invite him to come back to China sometime in the future. The Chinese have taken the position that Nixon's Watergate actions were no different from the actions of any other administration in Washington. They have therefore discounted those actions and are still warm to Nixon for his role in opening relations withm China after more than 20 years time since the revolution came to power.
